

Be Prepared – PreSale Day Offers coming fast

Be Prepared for your mailbox to be full of offers and discounts to buy stuff since it is almost time for Black Friday and Cyber Monday to happen. This year I am noticing that there is an abundance of offers from quite a few places that are trying to get the jump ahead of the traditional day. In addition to the normal volume of Black Friday and Cyber Monday offers that fill up my mailbox I am starting to get tons of offers to buy ahead. It is still over a week away for the traditionally stuffing of offers that I am sure will come to flood the mailbox.

Don't know about you but I don't have the extra funds to buy stuff. It also takes time to sort thru the offers to see what I really need, what is discounted, and what is really important. Things change and some the things I would normally renew won't be needed with the upcoming changes in the digital world. Many plugins won't be needed with the improvements in WordPress Gutenberg and block editing improvements.
