Some spring flowers are showing

Last fall I planted lots of new blue purple crocus bulbs. Some are starting to show their blooms but it seems that something ate the bulbs again. Something is eating the lilies bulbs in the flower garden as well. Evidence of holes where a critter went after the bulbs are evident. Have sprayed the tulips to discourage the deer in hopes that there will be tulips in a little while since there are lots of green leaves. The daffodils are in full bloom in all locations.

Easter 2024

It is Easter.

Almost Spring...

It is almost spring. Easter is tomorrow and things are warming up outside. I have a bouquet of tulips on my desk and the scented hyacinth plant is starting to have scents. It is almost spring...

March 23

It is going to be spring soon. Today there was a snow storm with about three inches of snow and warnings on the weather app. Hopefully the daffodils that were just starting to bloom and the crocus won't be hurt too much by the snow. I am ready for spring.

Whatever and Forever

Trying to decide what to keep forever and whatever else I can get rid of in digital horde and massive box of photos.

Awesome Spreadsheet Offer!

Raise your hand if you find yourself overwhelmed and frustrated with trying to come up with all of the ideas for your content and marketing by yourself.

If your hand is raised, you're not alone.

It happens. Staring at a blank computer screen, trying to figure out what to write in your email newsletters, in your social media posts, and on your sales pages.

What if there was an awesome tool that asked you some questions about your business and your product or service, and then generated your content and sales copy for you?

My friend Crissy Herron has an awesome spreadsheet that will help create your content and sales copy!

There are 3 tabs to this spreadsheet. In the first tab, you'll answer a series of questions about your business, your product or service, and your ideal customer.

While you are answering those questions, the spreadsheet will take your answers and use them to generate content ideas in the second tab, and sales copy in the third tab.

You can take the content ideas and use them to create social media posts, email newsletters, and even blog posts.

And you can copy and paste the sales copy right into your sales page.

Here's a video that gives you a sneak peek of this tool here

Normally $37, you can get a copy of this spreadsheet to help you create your content and sales copy for just $9

You can use this in your business AND with your clients.

You could offer a full-service solution, where you answer the questions on behalf of your clients and create the sales page and social media posts /emails on their behalf.

You'll be able to download your spreadsheet right away!

This special price is only available for a limited time
