

Getting Ready for holiday

It is Thanksgiving week here in the US.

Preparing for a feast dinner with turkey and all the trimming on Thursday.

Getting ready to be bombarded with all sorts of Black Friday and Cyber Monday sales and discounts. Expecting the mailbox will be overloaded since I am on so many mailing lists. I attempt to stay current with the updates to various applications and software that I subscribe to so I am on lots of mailing lists. Thinking about the future since another year will have passed. Wondering if I should change direction or just give up.
